

School Leaders Face Many Jobs

Planning for educational opportunity is a job which ranges from selecting school sites to utilizing federal funds for local programs.

So said Torrance School Superintendent Dr. J. H. Hull and assistant superintendent S. E. Waldrip at an Educational Council of Torrance luncheon.

The two speakers described business and financial aspects of school planning before an audience of 187 community leaders at the Torrance Recreation Center.

DISCUSSING the impact of government spending on education, Dr. Hull declared, "I never believed in federal aid to education. My horizons were limited by local control until it became a national

'Kings' Concert to Open at EC Friday

First in a series of four musical programs titled "Concerts on the King's Highway" will be presented Friday in the Campus Theater of El Camino College at 8:30 p.m.

Carl Dolmetsch, recorder; Joseph Saxby, harpsichord; and the Schoenfeld Duo, violin and cello, will perform the initial concert.

Dolmetsch is well known as a virtuoso recorder player. An Honorary Fellow of both Trinity College of Music, 1950, and the London College of Music, 1954, Dolmetsch was also awarded an honorary doctorate of letters by the University of Exeter in 1963.

The instrument, itself, is commonly associated with music of the Elizabethan period and is best compared to a modern-day flute.

Dolmetsch has toured extensively in America, Australia and Europe since 1947.

performing more than 50 concerts, broadcasts and lecture recitals a year.

JOSEPH SAXBY began his career as a harpsichordist in 1932 under the direction of Dolmetsch. He has associated with the family since that time as a personal accompanist.

When he was 15, Saxby toured the United States as an accompanist to his father, Michael Zacharewitsch, violinist.

Today Saxby is recognized as one of the finest and most experienced harpsichordists of the time, and is an Honorary Fellow of the London College of Music.

Alice Schoenfeld, violinist, and her sister, Eleonore Schoenfeld, cellist, are also featured in the concert.

The Misses Schoenfeld are members of the University of California music faculty and Eleonore Schoenfeld also holds the position of artist in residence at the University of Redlands.

Alice Schoenfeld has been playing the violin since the age of three and at five she gave her first successful concert in Yugoslavia, her homeland.

At four, Eleonore Schoenfeld was a ballerina. She later left that field to study the cello at the Music Academy in Berlin.

THE SECOND concert of this series will feature Kimio Eto, koto player, on Oct. 8. The two following concerts will feature Dr. Robert Haag, pianist, on Oct. 15 and Joyce Jones, organist, on Oct. 22. All of these concerts will be presented in the El Camino College Campus Theater.

Tickets are on sale at the El Camino College student store and will be available at the box office on the night of the performance.

THS Paper Wins First Class Award

A first class honor rating was awarded the Torrance News Torch, student newspaper at Torrance High School, in the 73rd All American Newspaper Critical Service of the National Scholastic Press Association, at the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis, Minn.

More than 1,000 student newspapers from high schools throughout the nation are judged by NSPA in groups divided by enrollment, frequency of publication and method of printing.

A first class rating is comparable to "excellent," according to the judges. Entries are judged in all areas of production from coverage through writing and makeup.

Connie Eggleston was student editor of the prize-winning paper and Mrs. Virginia Lindsey, advisor.

WALDRIP explained the district's role in planning for school buildings. He described criteria used in site selection and problems involved in acquiring school sites.

"The rambling California chicken-house style of school building is giving way to the multi-storied school," he stated. Although the two or three-story building does create problems, Waldrip commented, when land becomes too costly, it becomes a necessity. "And it is now too costly in Torrance. We are recommending multi-story construction at Spencer School and have used it at all the high schools."

EFFECTS OF three new freeways in Torrance on school planning were described by the assistant superintendent who also pointed out needs for special facilities brought about by departmentalization of seventh and eighth grade programs.

Preceding the talks, musical selections were rendered by the Anza Elementary School band under the direction of Frances Snyder.

Invocation was delivered by the Rev. Clarence Peterson, pastor of the South Bay Church of God.
